

Campus Monitor Technical Overview

Campus Monitor is an environmental monitoring and campus security management system. Campus Monitor combines IoT devices, machine learning, and computer vision to collect data, detect anomalies, and track environmental parameters in real time.

These technologies are useful because IoT sensors provide continuous ambient telemetry across campus zones, machine learning enables automated anomaly detection without manual supervision, and computer vision identifies safety hazards and occupancy patterns.

Campus Monitor aims to improve campus sustainability and energy efficiency in future deployments.